—Those Who Won Prizes.

The weekly whist of the Helping Hands society of the First Spiritual Union was held on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. William Toothill.
There were players for ten tables and a delightful evening was enjoyed. The prizes went as follows: First, Mrs. A.
T. Wholey, pack of cards; Miss Harriet Kirk, china sugar bowl and creamer; consolations, G. P. Pooler and Miss Esther Strom.

Following the whist sandwiches, coffee and fruit were served, and a social hour spent. The next meeting in two weeks will be with Mrs. A. F.

at the police station by a young man, who thought he had been touched by a bullet. He said he had his suspicions but didn't want to mention any name.
He had been in a saloon with a number of others and all of a sudden he couldn't find his money. None of the party knew of the whereabouts of the money, and later Sergeant Twomey searched the young man and found that the money was in his trouser's leg. He had by mistake slipped it in there instead of into a small watch pocket. He was very much surprised when he found the roll of bills.

MAIN CASE HEARD

IN SUPERIOR COURT.

Plaintiff's Evidence Has Not Been Completed—Divorce Suit.

In the superior court here on Thursday the case of Mrs. Lucy Y. Main vs.
E. Main was partly heard. It is a contested divorce suit, in which alimony is asked.

The grounds claimed are cruelty and adultery. Mrs. Main was on the stand about two hours and a half.
She said her maiden name was Lucy Yerrington and that her home was in Ledyard. Last April, when but 17 years of age, she was married to Main, who was but 19.

Her domestic married life was marked by continued abuse and maltreatment, according to her story. Main, she said, had beaten her regularly. One night he beat her until she fainted away and it was necessary to call a doctor, some difficulty being experienced in reviving her.

The marks from the blows had remained on her body. After calling the doctor, under whose care she had remained some time, Mrs. Main said her husband refused to pay the doctor's bill and she was necessary to call a doctor, some difficulty being experienced in reviving her.

Mrs. Main said she had left her husband once, but that he had induced her to return. In October, 1909, on advice of her lawyer, Attorney Hall, she had left her husband, and now made her home with her parents.

Main had called there to ask her to return to live with him once more, but she had refused, her parents interfering, telling Main to see Attorney Hall if he wished to make any arrangements.

Main had told her, Mrs. Main said, of committing adultery with a woman named Jennie Dunham. On this the adultery claim in the suit is based.

Mrs. Main claims that Main, who is a conductor on the Norwich and Westbury trolley, has money. He owns a farm in Ledyard valued at about $10,000 and has considerable money in the Norwich savings banks. She asks for alimony.

Dr. Tingley testified to attending Mrs. Main and the nature of her troubles.

Other witnesses called were E. B.
Hinckley, C. A. Snyder, Thomas L.
Pashy, Maurice E. Main, A. E. Yer-rington and Edna A. Barstow.

The defendant was called on Thursday simply to testify to the property he and Mrs. Edna A. Barstow, who was on the stand under cross examination when court adjourned, is a sister of the plaintiff.

The case went over until next Tuesday, but there will be a short calendar session today.

Home from Mexico.

Adolph Colberg, who left here in October, 1909, to go to the Canary Islands, Mexico, returned on Thursday for a short visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Colberg of Hedre avenue, and has considerable money in the Norwich savings banks. She asks for alimony.

Dr. Tingley testified to attending
Mrs. Main and the nature of her troubles.

Other witnesses called were E. B.
Hinckley, C. A. Snyder, Thomas L.
Pashy, Maurice E. Main, A. E. Yer-
rington and Edna A. Barstow.

The defendant was called on Thursday simply to testify to the property
he and Mrs. Edna A. Barstow, who
was on the stand under cross examination when court adjourned, is a sister of the plaintiff.

The case went over until next Tuesday, but there will be a short calendar session today.

Funerals.

Thursday morning the funeral of Joseph Bonin was held from the home of his parents in Hickory street and at St. Patrick's church. The services were conducted by Rev. J. McCarthy.
There were many present, including delegations of Court Sachem, No. 128, P. of A., and the Holy Name society.
The bearers were Joseph H. LaFrance, Ell Pontaine, Arthur Porter of the Holy Name society and J. R. Porte-lance, J. R. Bruso and John Cyr of the Foresters. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery. There were many floral remembrances.

Thomas Kennedy.

Thursday afternoon the funeral of Thomas Kennedy was held from the rooms of M. V. Murphy, where a burial service was read by Rev. J. Mc-Carthy. There was a number of floral forms, including one from his shop-mates. Friends acted as bearers and burial was in St. Mary's cemetery.

Miss Josephine Nash.

On the noon train Thursday the body of Miss Josephine Nash arrived here from Newton, Mass., and was taken in charge by Funeral Director Gager. Burial was in Yantic cemtery, where a committal service was read by Rev. Dr. Lowell Pratt. The bearers were George H. Williams of Newton, Eugene Nash of Boston, C.
R. Woodworth and H. Dolbare of this city. There was a number of flowers.

OBITUARY.

Patrick J. Moriarty.

Relatives in this city received word Wednesday night of the death in New York of Patrick J. Moriarty of No. 236 East One Hundred and Fifth street.
His death occurred Wednesday morning in a hospital after an illness of short duration. Mr. Moriarty was about 35 years of age and lived in this city for a number of years previous to his removal to New York. He is a nephew of Edward D. Moriarty of Eastern avenue, with whom he resided several years. He is survived by his wife, his father, and by a stepmother and several stepbrothers who reside in Norwich. His brother, Edward, died in a hospital in New York about two weeks ago.

The funeral takes place in New York Friday morning.

Miss Agnes Gough.

Miss Agnes Katherine Gough, daughter of Matthew B. and Jane Gough, of Wauwecus Hill, passed away Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock after a short illness. She had been home from school, only a short time with diabetes melletus.

Miss Gough was born at Norwich Town, had graduated from St. Patrick's parochial school and was attending herself to be a teacher in the William school, where she has been studying for the past year. She was highly esteemed by all with whom she came in contact and her demise will be greatly deplored. Her age was 21. She is survived by her parents, four sisters, Teresa, Annie, Lillian and

STATE OFFICERS VISIT WOODMEN

Norwich Camp No. 8908 had Open Meeting and Installation of Officers—State Consul Connor and Deputy Hughes Made Addresses.

Norwich camp, No. 8908, Modern Woodmen, started the year in an auspicious manner with a public installation of its officers in Hibernian hall on Thursday evening, which was attended by an audience of about 125, including the members and their friends of both sexes, a large delegation from camp No. 7894, and smaller delegations from Cocheagan camp of Montville, and New London camp, No. 7823. The two special guests of honor were Hon. William T.
Connor of New London, venerable state consul, and District Deputy Joseph R. Hughes of Hartford.

After a selection by an orchestra, Venerable Consul-elect Joseph D.
Pfeiffer opened the meeting, welcoming the visitors and the neighbors of other camps and introducing Venerable State Consul Connor as the presiding officer. The latter took charge and congratulated Norwich camp upon the fine showing they are making in this meeting. He surrendered his place to District Deputy Hughes for the installation. Thomas O'Donovan assisted as chief forester, and the stations were filled temporarily by neighbors from camp No. 7894, New London camp and Cocheagan camp. The following were those who received the instructions of the district deputy fitting them for their respective offices:

Venerable consul, Joseph D. Pfeiffer; advisor, Saul S. Afslein; banker, Cornellus J. Downes; clerk, John E.

Congdon; escort, J. J. Cox; physician, Dr. F. J. Harper; watchmen, E. J.
Kilday; sentry, J. F. Nolan; managers, T. H. Mullen, J. H. Mullen, and J. J.
Kirby. The ceremony was impres-sively performed by the district deputy and the officers were escorted to their stations by the chief forester to the music of the orchestra.

Venerable Consul Pfeiffer assumed his office with a few remarks and then turned the meeting over to Venerable State Consul Connor. He presented Christopher Collins of New London camp as the first speaker, who made a strong presentation of the desirability of membership in the Modern Woodmen. Others to follow him in brief remarks were James Purdon, clerk, and Charles E. Burgess, banker of camp No. 7894, and Frank Chapman of Cocheagan camp.

State Venerable Consul Connor and District Deputy Hughes both presented the claims of the order in a convincing way, and three applications were received for the next meeting of the camp. A solo, "Under the Irish Moon," was well rendered by J. J.
Kirby.

The visitors from New London camp were Louis L. Allen, Christopher Collins and Neighbors Burns and Ward, and from Cocheagan camp there were Frank Chapman, Richard Rogers, William Kenerson, William Kenerson, and Joseph Costan.

Sister Mary Luke of the convent in Hartford, and two brothers, Joseph in Hartford and Beechmens in this city.
